

KAISHO

KAISHO's mission

KAISHO Co., Ltd. has been involved in the tuna industry for over 40 years. Our business philosophy since the very beginning has been to protect the oceans, and we continue to carry with us this ideal of placing the ocean first. In order to bring the unconquerable ocean's bounty of tuna to the table of the world, we constantly undertake research in order to improve on our methods and develop an even better business.

Placing great importance on the involvement of people in the process, we continue to seek our mastery of tuna, always taking the position of humility in the perfection of our craft.

To share this marine gift, Southern Bluefin with you.

When it comes to “the best tuna” , you may say “It’ s Bluefin” .
We will say “It’ s Southern Bluefin” .

Discoloring very quickly, having small bones in its meat, Southern Bluefin require long experience and sophisticated craftsmanship to dismantle.
It called “Craftsman Killer” because it needs a lot of labor.
On the other hand, Southern Bluefin have rich taste which you never taste on other tuna.
We’ d like you to experience our Southern Bluefin, its rich taste and our craftsmanship.
For that purpose, we have been kept developing and handing down our skill since KAISHO founding so that we can offer you our products at its best condition.

Here are our products, our craftsmanship.
